DETAILED ACTION

The Art Unit location of your application in the USPTO has changed. To aid in correlating any papers for this application, all further correspondence regarding this application should be directed to Art Unit 1648.

Response to Amendment

The receipt of preliminary amendment of 4/12/01, is acknowledged. Claim 29 has been added. Claims 1-29 are pending before the examiner.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-13, 16, 17 drawn to a recombinant herpesvirus which contain rep and cap gene derived ^{from} ~~from~~ AAV. (1st product and method)

Group II, claim(s) 1, 16, 17 drawn to a viral composition comprising. (2nd product)

Group III, claim(s) 14, 15, and 29, drawn to nucleic acid which comprises helper functions of herpesvirus which are required for AAV replication. (3rd product)

Group IV, claim(s) 18, 19-22, drawn to a process of preparing AAV vector. (2nd process)

Art Unit: 1648

Group V, claim(s) 23-27, drawn to a cell which contains recombinant herpesvirus. (4th product)

Group VI, claim(s) 28, drawn to process of producing infectious AAV. (3rd process)

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The invention of Group I is known in the prior art as evidence by Conway et al (Journal of Virology, 1997) wherein the reference teaches the product of Herpesvirus amplicon vectors consisting of rep and cap genes of AAV (see the abstract). The cited evidence prove that the technical feature of Group I does not make a contribution over the prior art. Thus, the claims are not so linked by a special technical feature within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
